Dorset Golf Course Results September

For the last 2 or 3 months a Nett 79 score would see you feature quite strongly in the top 10. Not so this month however, poor Burnsie who made his long awaited comeback chose the wrong month to make an appearance since his 113 Nett 79 was to know avail and he was relegated to the Beer Wench position coming last with what would usually be considered a very reasonable score.

Obviously the conditions were absolutely perfect. A short and relatively open course, an ideal spring day with hardly a gust of wind to be seen and the ‘piece de resistance’ was the benefit of preferred lies across the entire course. The result was more than half of the field broke par and the remainder were pretty much at their handicap level. The course conceded more than 10 birdies; Big Mick collected 4 of them on his own. Pars were a plenty and very few players fell victim to the large blow out hole that we have grown so accustomed too.

With so many good scores produced at Dorset the handicapper was required to sharpen his scissors and give quite a few haircuts to many of the player’s handicaps. More than ten strokes have been eliminated from the equation with Tony Grasso, Greg Breasley, Phil Plane and Steve O’Sullivan being dealt the harshest treatment. Certainly what is obvious after a month like this is that the New Slope Handicap system we are using is not nearly as damaging to your handicap as was the old system. Tony under the old system would have lost 3 strokes from his handicap, meaning it would take nearly 3 years of disastrous rounds to get back to the handicap he played off pre Dorset. Under the new Slope Handicap system he only lost 1.3 shots for his 8 under par which could be reclaimed in just a matter of a few months should his current good form suddenly elude him.

Speaking of Handicaps the AGU, have once again amended the official Golf Handicapping formula. These changes go live across Australia as of the 21st September 2011. With only the 1x round for the SLP home and away season plus the golf trip to go, we will not bother complying with the AGU system yet and we will not be implementing those changes this year. As of season 2012 we will start with new handicaps based on the new scoring formula, which may cause some slight adjustments to your Sunday Leave Pass social club playing handicap in 2012.

In summary, the changes include:

- *1 Your handicap is factored based on only your 8 best scores rather than your best 10 from your most recent 20 games.
- *2 The maximum score you can play over par is capped at 40 per round
- *3 The margin for excellence division calculation has been changed from 0.96 to 0.93
- *4 Your handicap can not go up by any more than 4 strokes over a 12 month period.

These changes are likely to happen next season, although it probably doesn’t make much sense to most people nor do you need to worry about it or care how the handicap is calculated, so long as it slows down Dale Robinson we will all be happy little campers.

It is coming towards the time of the year when we need to start thinking about our nominations for the Sunday Leave Pass Players choice awards. Voting will not start until next month however it might be worth reminding you of what the award categories are:

MOST IMPROVED PLAYER

This prize takes into account the player who is believed to have made the most significant improvement in their game over the duration of the year. A player who you think is doing much better now than they were at the start of 2011. Votes will be tallied from all of your peers and we will also take into consideration the change in each player's handicap through the 2011 season.

WORST IMPROVED PLAYER

This prize takes into account the player who is believed to have made the most significant downturn in their game over the duration of the year. A player who you think is doing much worse now than they were at the start of 2011. Votes will be tallied from all of your peers and we will also take into consideration the change in each player's handicap through the 2011 season.

LEATHER WEDGE

Each year the Leather Wedge award is given to the player who is best able to manipulate the rules of golf to help to improve their scorecard.

Actions such as kicking the ball out of the bushes with your foot when nobody looking. Not counting a short missed putt because you were only mucking around. Dropping another ball where yours was lost without taking the relevant penalties and creative accounting (just not counting all of your shots.) These are just some of the many different ways that someone can earn a nomination for the title of Leather Wedge winner. The leather wedge prize will be determined by an anonymous ballot with the person who receives the most votes from their peers being given the trophy.

ANGRY MAN AWARD

This is Category, was introduced to acknowledge some of the more memorable dummy spits out on the course during the year. Players may nominate a player for an individual temper tantrum and give a brief explanation of the events leading up to and preceding the dummy spit or otherwise nominate a single individual who they believe has the shortest fuse and worst temper on the fairways without specifying a particular single event.

Other prize categories for the Sunday Leave Pass Season include:

WOOD & SPOON (Worst average finishing position)

This prize takes into account the player who has the worst average place rankings for the season. In order to qualify a player must have played at least 6 rounds for the year. The total sum of all place finishes is divided by the number of rounds played.

Average place finish	Rounds Played	Wood & Spoon Ranking	Jan Finished	Feb Finished	Mar Finished	Apr Finished	May Finished	Jun Finished	Jul Finished	Aug Finished
12.86	7	1st	9 th	12 th	13 th	DNP	15 th	16 th	13 th	12 th

BEER WENCH (WORST SCORE ON GOLF TRIP)

This prize is given to the player who has the worst Nett round on the Saturday of the Thurgoona Golf Trip. The Beer Wench will be made to wear a special Beer Wench Dress & T Shirt on Saturday night and will be required to serve drinks to all of the other players for a 2 hour period during dinner.

PLEASE NOTE: To make it totally clear the Beer Wench does not have to pay for the drinks with their own money but they must go to the bar and order drinks, using the fine jar kitty when ever they are asked to do so by fellow players.

BEST SCORE ON GOLF TRIP

This is no different to any other month only the prize is a little better. Prize Awarded to the best Nett Score on the Saturday round at Thurgoona.

SUNDAY LEAVE PASS 2011 CHAMPION

This is awarded to the person who accumulated the highest championship points throughout 2011.

Apparently Dale has already asked for his prize early but bad luck buddy you will just have to wait.

RUNNER UP- SUNDAY LEAVE PASS 2011 CHAMPION

This is awarded to the person who accumulated the 2nd highest championship points throughout 2011.

SKINS & RAFFLE DRAW

The raffle draw will have many fantastic prizes. Raffle tickets have been awarded throughout the year to players for each round of golf that they have competed in. Extra tickets were also won in the monthly skins competition by winning a hole outright against the entire field. The more tickets you have won the greater the chances of winning a prize. A player can only win 1 prize out of the raffle. If your name is drawn out you win the prize but if you are drawn twice then you can choose which prize you would prefer to keep and the other prize is redrawn.

SUNDAY AMBROSE TEAMS EVENT (SUNDAY) (the Beer and Berrocca Shield)

This year the Ambrose competition will be taken as more of a feature event. We have a perpetual trophy and prizes will be awarded to the winning team. Ambrose will be a pair's event. We will try and make the teams as even as possible and randomly draw the high handicap with a low handicapper wherever possible. In an Ambrose game after each shot you take the ball in the best position and you both hit from that spot. You keep hitting until the ball is in the hole. The teams score is calculated on handicap basis.

BATTLE OF THE CHAMPIONS

This will be a new event where all of the monthly winners will play off for a Trophy and the title of Champion of Champions. The competitor's scores will be taken based on stableford points on 9 randomly selected mystery holes this event will be held on the Saturday in conjunction with the normal Monthly competition. The player with the most Stableford points will win.

Given the Domination of the season by only a few players, there will be a very small field for the battle of the Champions.

The field so far is as follows:

Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	Jun	Jul	Aug	Sep	Oct	Nov

Lets just hope some one new can bring home the chocolates at Werribee next month, (WARNING be careful with eating chocolate from Werribee, it is the sewage capital of Melbourne after all.)

SORRY ABOUT THE SIDE TRACK INFORMATION. Back to the golf!!!

There was definitely some great golf played at Dorset, and I think it is high time we clarify what the term playing "Shit golf is" All too often you ask a player how they went and the answer is I played Shit. To put it politely, playing a round which is within 5 shots of your handicap is pretty good going, the expert statistician's say that the average golfer will only break their handicap once in every 10 rounds of golf. So Dale, Mick and the rest of you jokers don't be coming into the car park each month telling us you played crap and then say that you finished with a Nett 67 or Nett 68. If you played close to your handicap you played well, so don't go sugar coating the truth or go all modest on us.

After 2 years of scores in the 100's, 110's and even 120 a couple of months ago, I am happy to tell you all, that I shot 88, Nett 67 and played really, really, really, really well. Just cos I had to dip into my pocket to pay the fine jar for a couple of wayward drives, and shot a nine and missed 3 or 4 easy tap in putts doesn't mean I played crap. It was a great day out and I am voting for Dorset for one of the season fixture courses forever cos I like the way it made me feel when I actually scored well for a change.

Big Mick who shot the equal lowest score with Gerard, a 7 over par 77 if you don't mind, when asked how he went claimed "I played pretty shit and definitely won't win, but I did have 4x birdies so I should win a few skins at least to make up for the bad day." Come on Mick let's be serious for a minute, 4x birdies in a round of golf, that's something any professional player would be happy with on most days. Adding to his disappointing performance, Mick also won the Nearest to pin prizes on the 8th and 11th and the longest Drive Prize on the first hole before he had even warmed up. How on earth can you say that is a bad day? At least the Karma Gods got him back, because even with his 4x Birdies for the day Mick was unable to win any skins at all. So thank you and congratulations to everyone else for scoring well enough to create a Jackpot on Micks 4x birdied holes.

I guess the big fella was just a tad unlucky not to win at least one skin. One player who did have lady luck following him around the golf course was Greg Breasley, who managed to bounce his ball off trees, rocks and I think it one stage his ball may have bounced off the grounds keeper's motor bike and ricocheted back into the middle of the fairway. It's not very often you see Ron Parsons overly animated but when Big Ball Breasley's Ball bounced back out of trouble for the 6th time, old Ron got a bit worked up and looked at one stage like he was going to do a Dave Hopkins and throw his Gatorade bottle him. I can't repeat the language that Ron used on the 10th occasion that Greg got lucky, because the internet police and the language filters on most peoples computers would not allow the profanities to go through to your inbox. Dare I say next time you see the cool, calm and collected Ron Parsons be warned that there is a deep dark side to him that can come out when the opportunity arises. If voting was open for the Angryman awards this month, I would be included to put Ron's name on the ballot paper. But then again I might have a bit of revenge to take out on him, since he sent me diving for cover and left me sprawled on the ground after his wayward shot on the 4th hole nearly cleaned me up. Ron hit his ball low and hard and with just enough hook to chase me as I dragged my buggy and myself away from the impending impact. Although the ball missed me by a matter of inches, my buggy ended up upside down with the entire contents of my sand bucket pouring down the top of the golf bag.

Chris Sfiligoj also managed to make an attack on his fellow playing partners. In fact he actually managed to hit Ben Nichol in the back. Evidently Ben had done the right thing and come to the aid of Chris who was having difficulty trying to locate his ball after a wayward drive onto the wrong fairway. In the end it was Ben who managed to find Chris' ball, but then before he had managed to return to the correct fairway, he heard the dreaded phrase "Watch your back Ben!" However it was all too late, as he turned to watch what was happening, there was a whack then a call of "F" then a thud as the Titliest 2 smashed into his left shoulder. We will never know if Chris was going to call Fore or say F#@k because he only managed to get the "F" out before there was a scream of agony from the wounded Ben. According to Ben he still has a bruise and had it not been for the recurring dimple pattern visible on his back his wife may have accused him of coming home on Sunday afternoon with a hickey on his shoulder.

At least the ball hit him in the back and not in the head because from such a point blank range it would have done some serious damage, even if the shot was a blatant shank. It probably wasn't Chris's greatest moment and was not his best hole for the day.

The best played hole of the day would have to be the way Gerard MacIsaac navigated the 3rd hole. For those that have never played at Dorset, the 3rd hole is a 275meter sharp dog leg hole around a very large lake. But for the adventurous Big hitters there is the option to try to drive over the lake (about a 220m plus carry) and go directly for the green. Gerard chose the more difficult shot and went at the green. Unfortunately things didn't go to plan and he duff hooked his drive into the middle of the pond and his ball became fish bait. He then weighed up his options, he could drop his ball at the front of the lake and shoot a mid iron for the green or he could play his third shot off the tee again and try to improve on what was a very ordinary first attempt to drive the green. Gerard opted once more for the glory shot and hit a strong driver out over the water. His drive was good, in fact it was too good and his ball rolled through the back of the green and finished under a cluster of small trees behind the putting surface. A lost ball, driving through the green into the bush, it seemed things were not looking that great for G. Gerard's 4th shot was a choked down chip from out of the scrub, as soon as he hit the ball he turned his back in frustration, he had topped his shot and it had skidded low and hard into the bank at the back of the green rather than flop up onto the green high and soft as he had planned it to do. Because he had his back turned to the hole Gerard didn't get the pleasure of watching his ball roll across the green, and come to rest at the base of the flag. His amazing chip in gave him a score of a par 4 with 0 putts including a 2 shot penalty for a lost ball. Incredible golf.

Compare that score to Luke Dumbrell who on the same hole had a seven with 5 putts. It just goes to show that the secret to a good round of golf is the short shots, it is putting and chipping that makes us backyard hackers different to the good golfers on a low handicap who are accurate and efficient around the greens where it counts.

Tony Grasso putted and chipped very well and what's more to cap off the perfect day he didn't get into too much trouble off the tee either. Congratulations to Tony who managed to outperform the entire field of 23 players and won the September title. It was a big effort especially when so many other players also had their best rounds for the year. 83 Nett 62 is a brilliant day out. Unlucky second was Phil Plane who broke the illusive century barrier and shot 7 under par 63.

Fair weather golfer Mark Fitzpatrick made a rare guest appearance and proved he has what it takes to be a good player, if he only made a bigger effort to play on a more regular basis. Fitz hit 84 off the stick and finished with 13 season championship points in 3rd place. Gerard finished in 4th spot and Greg Breasley choked on the back nine after a blistering front nine to finish only 3 strokes behind the tournament leader, despite scoring a ten, a nine and a couple of 8's.

With perfect conditions and the benefit of preferred lies it is understandable that the scores were pretty low. The Dorset final scores were as follows:
