Players Choice Awards 2012

Don't forget to put some thought into your votes for the player's choice awards. Over the next week everyone will be receiving an email with a link to the voting nomination form, all you will then need to do is to fill it in and send it back to us.

This year you have been asked to allocate points to 5x players who you believe are the most eligible candidates for each of the player's choice categories. You should give 5 points to your most preferred candidate, then 4, 3, 2 and 1 vote to the 4x people who you think are also vote worthy. Please get your votes in as early as possible. If you have any trouble with the voting survey links once you receive them please drop me a line.

We require 5x nominations from you for each of the following categories

- * ANGRY MAN award
- * LEAST IMPROVED player
- * MOST IMPROVED player
- * LEATHER WEDGE award

MOST IMPROVED PLAYER

This prize takes into account the player who is believed to have made the most significant improvement in their game over the duration of the year.

WORST IMPROVED PLAYER

This prize takes into account the player who is believed to have made the most significant downturn in their game over the duration of the year.

LEATHER WEDGE

The player who is best able to manipulate the rules of golf to help to improve their scorecard.

Actions such as kicking the ball out of the bushes with your foot when nobody looking. Not counting a short missed putt because you were only mucking around. Dropping another ball where yours was lost without taking the relevant penalties and creative accounting (just not counting all of your shots.)

ANGRY MAN AWARD

This category, was introduced to acknowledge some of the memorable dummy spits on the course during the year. Players may nominate a player for an individual temper tantrum thrown on the golf course or otherwise nominate a single individual who they believe has the shortest fuse and worst temper on the fairways without needing to nominate a single event.

Ringwood Golf Course Results

October

What a great day for golf it was last Sunday. With 21 players attending the Ringwood round it was pretty much the largest field that we have managed to pull together in 2013. We are still trying to work out whether it was the 26 degree weather forecast, the fact that Ringwood is an pretty easy golf course, or if the short distance to drive to get to the course or the $35 price tag that was the reason why suddenly a few of the old Sunday Leave Pass regulars reemerged out from their hibernation.

It's been a while since we have seen the names Mark Fitzpatrick and Adam Cooper on the scoreboard and hopefully the temporary re-allocation of their Sunday Leave Pass gave them a taste of the good old days and what life away from the ball and chain is like. Perhaps Sunday reminded them what fun you can have one Sunday per month in the company of 20 plus other blokes. The guys certainly must have made full use of the time away from the family and handbrake since for the first time since 2006 when Burnsie and Lukey Dumbrell had an "I can drink more than you can drink" bender the bar was actually drunk dry.

The bar profits were no thanks to the Supercoach who didn't even turn up to play golf again this month. For someone who used to pay out on others who let the wife control their social calendar he has certainly suddenly become a whipping boy himself. According to Fil, he was an unable to attend the Ringwood round due to some important prearranged commitments. The important commitments turned out to be a long drive out to Healesville to satiate his wife Karina's hankering for cocoa beans at the Yarra Valley Chocolate Factory. Not only did the Supercoach miss out on a good beer session with the boys and a round of golf but he even missed out on his matrimonial conjugal rites as his beloved relieved her bodies need for endorphin release through physical stimulation by getting the same hormone flowing through the use of chocolate as a substitute for sex.

The Supercoaches brother didn't fare much better. Chris gave up his day at Ringwood to participate in the Round the Bay in a Day Bike Ride. This is a very noble act and worthy of recognition. Chris cycles in the Round the Bay event every year and it his way of contributing to fundraising for a very worthy cause. This year the social club was so inspired by Shane Crawford's record breaking $1,500,000.00 fundraising cycle from Melbourne to Perth that we committed to sponsoring Chris 10 cents per km for his cycle around the bay. Although he did fall short of the million dollar mark we are proud to announce that the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club were able to donate $2.20 to Chris's charity because he covered 22km of the 250km circuit fighting against a strong head wind before he got too tired and pulled out of the race at Frankston.

It wasn't his best result but congratulations to Chris for giving it a try. One of our golfers did have a personal best on Sunday and deserves all of the accolades he is given. Phil Plane shot his lowest ever score with the Social Club to claim is third career title. Phil played an inspired round of golf finishing with 93 off the stick Nett 63 beating his previous personal best score of 99 by a landslide. Phil hit the ball beautifully and finished only 13 strokes behind the low marker Big Mick Harper who was even the recipient of some sledging and some coaching advice from Phil when a few of his drives didn't go according to plan.

For example on the first hole when Mick Harper skied his driver over the trees and his ball landed on the eighth green, Phil smashed his drive straight down the middle of the fairway. Even at that early stage in the day Phil actually had the courage to go over to the Big Fella and say to Mick "I think the problem is you are standing too close to the ball after you have hit it."

The advice must have helped Mick or at least got him very angry because by the time he got on to the back nine, he was always standing further away from the ball than everyone else after he hit it his driver out of site. Mick drove through the green on the 285 meter Par 4 tenth hole and on the longest drive 14th hole Mick claimed the longest drive prize and nearly the nearest to pin as well with a 300 meter plus launch down the middle of the fairway. Mick was so proud of his long drive on the 14th hole that after wrote his name “TOOL” on the Long Drive marker and then he also even had the cheek to sign his autograph on the golf flag as a permanent memento of his visit to Ringwood.

There was a bit of controversy over Micks long drive and Trevor and Fitzy have both thrown Micks name in the ring as a possible candidate for the Leather Wedge award for 2013. Evidently the point of conjecture was the fact that although the ball was slap bang in the middle of the fairway and only 5 meters from the front of the green, the actual area where Micks ball landed was not a part of the fairway or on the cut surface and therefore technically ineligible for the longest drive prize. Trevor claims that his ball was actually hit further than Micks ball but because he is not a cheat he didn't bother putting his name on the longest drive marker as he believes in is not in the spirit of the game to claim a prize that you are not rightfully entitled too.

With the strong trailing wind there were some powerful & long strokes played. Despite being asleep in the scorer's hut suffering from a severe hangover just minutes before he hit off, Grumpy got off to a blinder with a drive onto the front edge of the green on the first hole. Gerard, Stu Coops and Shane Cumming also all had short chips to try and set up a birdie on the first after some good drives but it was Peter Hutson who had the perfect start to the day. Pete converted his good drive and made a birdie 3. He also was rewarded with a skin on the first hole of the day. We are a bit sketchy on the exact details. We did ask him for more information about how he played the hole to incorporate it into the blurb but as is often the case with Peter these days he would only say the same words over and over and over again. Yep you guessed it “I bought a Jeep.”

Tony MacIsaac claimed a skin on the 10th hole when he set up an easy birdie with a brilliant shot into the 10th green. It was a glorious moment in what was otherwise a pretty tough day for Tony who finished the day unfortunately in Beer Wench position.

Greg Parsons played a spectacular shot into the Par 3 12th hole. The ChocTop entrepreneur played a deliberate shot using the strong cross wind to feed his ball towards the hole. Greg's ball for a long time looked as though it may even roll into the cup to win the Evergreen Winery Tours Hole in One prize but unfortunately it just missed the ace but nonetheless set Greg up with a very makeable 160cm birdie putt. Unfortunately for Greg, Stu Coops actually managed to sink his birdie attempt from 3200cm which suddenly made Greg's putt look all the more difficult. The good news was that Mr. ChocTops NTP effort held firm for the remainder of the day and he won the NTP prize ball, but the bad news was that he was not able to add a birdie onto his scorecard.

Steve Powne suffered a similar fate. As Steve knocked his third shot into the back of the cup on the Par 4 ninth hole, his playing partner SOS kindly reminded him that his score was a birdie except for the three drives that he had played from the tee that had failed to get passed the ladies tees.

As you can imagine Steve was devastated when he was forced to write his birdie three as an eight on the scorecard. Especially when he heard how on the same hole Stu Coops had managed to turn potentially an 11 of tee into a Par. Stu hit his first shot on the tight tree line on the left hand side of the fairway and chose to hit a provisional ball fearing it may have dropped into the garden beds and be lost. The provisional ball scuttled into the thick grass at the front of the tee and was recovered as an unplayable lie. The ball was dropped and the previous shot replicated perfectly. The ball was recovered, declared unplayable and dropped again. Given, potentially he was hitting five off the tee it was not the time to top the ball into the grass for a third time in a row but that's exactly what Stu did.

By the time Stu's playing partners were three quarters of the way up the fairway before Stu had hit his seventh shot which was in the form of a snap hook which flew out over the trees and landed with a crash on the roof of the greens keepers shed. It was about then when Stu was about to reload his next shot when Greg called back down the fairway to advise Stu that his first ball had actually managed to stay in play. Stu went onto to play the original ball and hit it onto the green and then two putted for a miraculous par. Had he not found the original ball his score was looking as though it had the potential to surpass Newell Richards brilliant 17 which he scored last month on the Par 3 6th hole at Kingston Links.

Congratulations to Stu who actually racked up his 10,000th shot with the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club. Excluding provisional balls which would probably add an extra 800-1000 shots Stu has now hit the ball 10061 times from his 106 rounds of Golf in SLP competitions.

Shane Cumming only has 9981 shots to catch up to Stu however he has already proved himself to be very competent with the golf club. Shane shot the equal lowest score for the day (80 off the stick) despite standing on the wrong side of the club. Shane was allocated a very impressive Callaway handicap of 8. His round featured 7x pars, 9x bogies and a birdie and gave his mate SOS a lesson on how to play golf. The usually consistent SOS could handle the pressure of Shane's performance and was even forced to dig his hand into his deep pockets to find $5-00 to pay the fine for failing to hit past the squatters tees.

Fitzy on the other hand was riding on the bow wave of Shane Cumming's excellent performance. Fitzy also played some inspired golf. He was sitting on just 27 shots for the back nine holes as he stood on the 16th tee. Unfortunately the pressure got the better of him and by the time he putted his ball into the hole on the 18th green he had racked up an extra 20x shots in the last three holes and had blown what could have otherwise been a very tidy round of golf.

Player of the day was most definitely Phil Plane who scored 15 championship points for his Nett 63. Even with the 1.3 shots the handicapper has taken off his handicap for next month he would still be a strong candidate for a win if he is able to shoot 93 again for the next round at Whittlesea. Stu Coops had a good day with the putter. He only had 27 putts for the day. Stu was very fortunate in the end especially since his Nett 67 was very lucky to beat Tony Grasso, Stuart Holbrook and Tony Grasso Junior on a count-back.

Stuart Holbrook may be the person to watch out for over the next few months. The handicapper has been very generous starting him off on a handicap of 17 when he obviously can play at a much lower handicap than that. Slinky played a very tidy round of golf finishing in 6th place with Nett 71. Shane Cumming and Mick Harper shot the equal lowest score for the day, hitting 80 with both guys playing off an 8 handicap.

Phil Plane x3 Winner at Ringwood

Just a reminder that for every round you play you are awarded a raffle ticket to go towards the end of year raffle, then extra tickets are issued if you wear the official club shirt plus extra tickets can also be won by winning a hole in the monthly skins competition.

“SKINS” were distributed to those players good enough to win a hole outright. If more than 1 player got the lowest score on a hole it is Jackpotted until an outright winner occurs. Ron Parson just missed scoring a hole in one but collected the biggest bag of skins on the 8th hole. Geoff Cooper won a couple of holes including a three hole jackpot.

A total of 7 players received a downward slash of their handicap. Phil Plane lost 1.3 shots, Stu Cooper last one whole shot, Tony Grasso Junior lost 0.9 shots, Slinky goes to Whittlesea with ½ a shot less than he had at Ringwood and Brendan Seagrave & Tony Grasso senior lost 0.4 shots for their efforts this month. Fitzzy also got a small trim. On a pretty easy course to score on the handicapper has only given a bit extra to those who desperately needed it. Adam Cooper, Gerard, SOS and Steve Powne where the lucky recipients.
