SUNDAY LEAVE PASS 2007

Warburton Results

Well where do I start this week? Coming up to the 16th hole I already had my victory speech prepared and ready to give out, but a terrible drive that finished 2 fairways across from where it was meant to be and then the return stroke finished with a lost ball in a pile of the grounds keepers tree cuttings meant that the dream round came to a tragic end. The only good thing was that it took 16 holes for me to crash and burn, whereas a few others struggled throughout the entire round. Darren for example returned to the angry man that we have come to know and love. He spent more time yelling at his golf ball and throwing tantrums than he did drinking beers in the car park. No sorry that's not a good comparison, I forgot that he was so cranky after his round that he jumped straight in the car and drove home without staying for a drink with the boys.

As always the first hole offered some great entertainment, Fil belted his first drive into the water tower in the middle of the fairway and gave himself a near impossible second shot from behind it. Not to be out done Gerard shanked his shot at right angles and his ball nearly finished up in the clubhouse window. Amazingly both boys still managed to conjure up some magic and some how they each scored a bogey five on the hole.

Congratulations to our newcomer Alistair, he played some exceptional golf including a brilliant shot into the 18th hole, which just by a matter of inches missed rolling into the hole for an eagle 2, An 8 inch tap in birdie putt was a nice way to finish his very tidy round. There would have been outrage and controversy had he won the 30 ball eagles nest on his first round as well as take out the longest drive with a massive launch, which whizzed past the previous marker by more than 25 meters. The whispers amongst the group afterwards were that, "the boy knows how to play." Burnsie was even heard asking Alistair for private tuition although rumor is that he has already started taking lessons a while ago. That would explain the sudden improvement in Burnsies recent scores, he once again Burnsie had a top 5 finish with a Nett 74.

Adam Cooper lived up to expectations he switched between flashes of absolute brilliance and some comprehensive disasters he had a 16 on one hole, which must be close to a club record. To his credit Adam counted all of his shots and penalties, where many others in a similar situation may have opted to round the score down a few shots and risk being nominated for the Leather Wedge award. Please remember that you need to count all shots and that includes penalty strokes, air swings, missed putts or shots that you otherwise weren't happy with.

Rick McEvoy turned a 10ft birdie putt into a triple bogie with a four putt. The greens at Warby were treacherous and the ground staff apparently gets great satisfaction out of putting the hole on a cliff face. Rick paid the ultimate price for leaving his ball above the hole. He missed with the first Putt, then while hitting the ball back up the hill rather than stop near the hole it rolled back towards him and finished further than where he had it from originally. To prove it wasn't a fluke Rick managed to put backspin on the next putt aswell, Luckily for Rick the fourth putt finally hit the middle of the cup. After two broken clubs, 6 gouges out of the green the size of bunkers and after throwing the flag stick down into the river bed, Rick turned to his playing partners and calmly said, "How unfortunate!"

An Honorary mention goes to Jeremy who has demonstrated his unerring commitment to maintaining and protecting the significance of the Sunday Leave Pass. When asked to relinquish his pass due to family commitments he told his partner that he would compromise and promised that he would hit off in the first group and would come home when he had finished his round.

just emailing you for a small request!! Sunday is my wife's bday celebrations (along with my dads, grandma's and probably someone else in my family that i cant remember at this time!!!!) The celebrations start around midday! My small request is can i please be placed in the first group so I am not to late getting to the party! I hope I am not asking too much!!!

Jeremy

Compare that to Fitzy who rang up to cancel his spot as soon as he found out that the hire carts were not going to be allowed on the course. "If I can't get a buggy then I don't want to play." He went on to justify canceling at the last minute by saying that "the course is too hilly", "the weather is going to be too cold", "it's too far to drive" and "I have a sore finger too". Now that's a soft effort and showed total disrespect to the Sunday Leave Pass.

Interestingly, we received a letter for Fitzy today canceling his application to be a potential donor for the Australian Organ Donor registry. Enclosed is a copy of the letter.

Dear Mr.Fitzpatrick,

Thank you for your nomination to be a registered organ donor. Unfortunately however, after careful consideration we have decided not to accept your application.

Our thorough research investigation has concluded that you would not be a suitable candidate for the following reasons.

1. You have no Heart.
2. You have no Balls.
3. You have no Guts.

Which basically means that you don't anything of substance that we could use from you.

We wish you a long and healthy life, and recommend that you play plenty of golf whenever and wherever you get the opportunity in order keep fit and stay healthy.

Australian Organ Donor Committee.

Overall it was a very good day, especially for Jamie. There has been much talk in the news reports lately about the big drought that has been going for the past 4 years and now the headlines are all about how the drought has finally broken. What you didn't realize is the drought that they have been talking about is Jamie winning 10 championship points and finishing first. Finally after more than 4 years, Brunto has cracked it for a win. After hitting his best round 96, Nett 67 Jamie escaped a count back with Stu Coops, Jamie's 22 stableford points on the back nine was enough to come out victorious.

Rick as normal finished in the top 5 finishing 3rd with a very respectable 89 off the stick. Roger Powne played a very steady round finishing in 4th place with 84 off the stick and as has already documented, Burnsie under the guidance of Alistair rounded out the top 5 with a Nett 74 beating Chris & Jeremy on a three-way count back.

The final standings at Warburton were as follows:

Handicaps

The major significant changes this month were Jamie Brunton and Stu Coops who lost 0.8 and 0.6 strokes respectively. Congratulations to Chris Sfiligoj who qualified for an official club handicap at last, he has successfully sorted the Callaway system up until now and he will have his handicap quickly adjusted to a more accurately representative handicap for his golfing level over the next couple of months. Everyone how hit worse than a Nett 70 will be rewarded with an extra 0.1 to play with next time.

They have been very accommodating to the club, and if you were contemplating buying some golf equipment it would be I your interest to contact Sam and the boys at the Golf Clearance Outlet to see what sort of deal they might be able to do for you. Steve dropped in the other day and got himself a pair of new golf shoes and a glove and Stu and Adam bought the Old Man a hybrid golf club at a very competitive price.

The Golf Clearance Outlet has an incredible supply of golf equipment and also can supply all clothing at fantastic prices. As part of our support for them we will be promoting deals and offers that the Golf Clearance Outlet have available and on many occasions our club members will receive a further 10% discount off most items just by mentioning the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club.

If you were considering buying anything to do with golf it would be in your best interest to buy it via the Golf Clearance Outlet. Sam has even said that if there is something in particular that you wanted and he doesn't have it in store he has the buying capacity to order it in for you and will still offer it at a better price than the bigger golf outlets would do for you.

PS. I forgot to mention.

No, in fact I thought it was important enough to have a separate email to thank Jamie and Steve for looking after the BBQ on Sunday. They did a great job cooking for all of us and it is important to acknowledge their good work.

Well done to all of the fella's who after having a great feed, took Jamie and Steve aside and shook their hands and thanked them and said "good job boys." And for those that didn't do it. Why not?

Don't forget that next month we are playing at Beacon Hills at 9-00am on 26th August. We forgot to ask on Sunday who was playing next month so please check your status and if you are marked as unknown please reply now. <http://www.beaconhillsgolf.com.au/> for info on the course or how to get there.
