Waterford Valley Golf Course Results January

As I look at a huge pile of golf scorecards spread all over the kitchen table, some with impressive scores and others with some pretty ordinary results, which I'm sure the owners would sooner rather forget, I wonder what I should mention about the Waterford Valley round.

*I could mention any one of the 14 holes that Jamie Brunton lost a golf ball on, the exact tally of how many balls Jamie actually lost at Waterford Valley is not quite clear but it is true that the entire supply he received for Christmas from his kids, his sister, his mum aswell as the balls he got for from aunts & uncles and Kris Kringle are now sitting at the bottom of the many watercourses surrounding the golf course.

*I could mention the damage and destruction that occurred on the golf course on Sunday. However I don't want to offend anyone or encourage prejudices against peoples character, so I won't mention how Ron Parson's broke the head off his driver and nearly decapitated Mick Harper in the process. If I don't mention Ron's misadventure, then it wouldn't be fair if I brought to your attention the incident when the 2008, 2009 Angry Man re-shaped his Pitching wedge on the 15th hole with the aid of a native tree. Nor would it be fair to tell you the circumstances that culminated with Rick Turcinovic having to use a 3 inch putter shaft, for the final few holes of the day after his putter succumbed to the wrath of the Rick and he demonstrated why he is the Angry Man title holder.

*It would be easy to laugh at Stu Coops' putting performance even with a full length club, 43 putts including a 5 putt on the 4th hole and a 4x putt on the 14th from 10 feet would make for a funny tale but I won't go there.

*I'm sure Nick Brennan would not want his back nine mentioned. Especially after shooting a scorching 41 on the front nine, so he would want his 60 including 2x holes of 11 kept from public knowledge, for fear of being labelled a choker.

*Chris Sfiligoj has placed a gag order on the Sunday Leave Pass blurb and prevented us from exposing his adventures stuck deep down in the bunkers. So you will never get to hear about his 4x shots to get out of the bunker on the first hole, and you definitely will not hear about the time when it took him even longer, 5x shots to get out of the sand on the 8th hole.

*The gag order extends to Chris's brother so we are forbidden from recounting the tale when the Supercoach also got stuck in the deep sand on the Par 3, 17th and how an easy up and down for par from the sand was converted to a 9 including 6 shots in the bunker.

*I could write a novel about Geoff Cooper's day. But to keep the Blurb short I will spare the details and I won't even mention the incident when Geoff's brand new, state of the art motorised golf buggy broke down after nine holes, and he was left pushing the heavy machine in 35+ degree heat.

*I should probably mention Matt MacIsaac's 320meter drive over the back of the 15th green, and Big Nick setting up an attempt for the eagles nest after hitting a huge drive leaving himself a 9 iron into the 510 meter par 5, fifth hole.

*Slinky being rushed to the doctors was a bit of a concern, but apparently he is fine now and he just had heat stroke and dehydration from being out in the sun for so long.

Rather than mention all of these unusual, extraordinary and humorous events out on the course I thought I would just send out the results for the month and congratulate Daniel DeMarinis who despite whinging about what he says is a too low a handicap for him, managed to finish the day with an 85, (2 shots better than his handicap) giving him a Nett 70 and earning him yet another Sunday Leave Pass monthly title.

Daniel beat Tony Grasso senior on a count back because he scored more stableford points on the back nine. The MacIsaac family featured at the top of the leaders board with Gerard finishing in 3rd place and Matt MacIsaac had a blistering back nine to move himself up into 4th spot with a Nett 73. The low markers and power Players, SOS, Mick Harper and Alistair Beyer had average rounds by their own high standards but still finished in 5th, 6th and 7th spot respectively.

With the majority of the field wilting in the heat and the standard of play deteriorating towards the end of the day, it meant that some potentially great scores end up not so good. Under the new handicapping system the handicapper has been generous and offered some extra shots to quite a large proportion of the field. Interestingly Daniel DeMarinis who played 2x shots better than his handicap was even given a boosted handicap as one of his really good scores fell out of the top 20 scores. On the other hand poor Nick Brennan's handicap remains unchanged despite him finishing with a Nett 90, owing to only his top 2x scores being used to formulate his handicap. On the positive side for Nick his handicap is destined to go up to at least 15.6 or more for his next round. The handicap predictor indicates that if Nick had played 20 rounds for the Social Club then his handicap would be frightening considering the glimpses of brilliance he showed on Sunday, but the numbers infer he could play of a handicap as high as 23 once his top 8 scores are factored into the equation.
