Thanks to all of the guys who joined the Sunday Leave Pass Footy tipping and Supercoach Fantasy football competitions. The AFL season has all been wrapped up bar the finals so we now have the results for those competitions. Congratulations to all of the winners we will arrange for payment to be transferred into your nominated bank account or we can leave you with credit to use towards future golf rounds or your golf trip. Please touch base with me and let us know what you wish to do.

In the footy tipping SOS just managed to hold out against the Supercoach by a single correct tip and the Mongrel fell over the line in third place beating 4 others by the margin score.

2.	Runner Up	Gorillas (Wayne)	$80
3.	Grand Final winner Bottom 8	The Real Supercoach (Jamie)	$50

Finals

Jamie tanked it just to play the crap players in the bottom 8. He was never gonna lose against the crap supercoach players.

Grand Final bottom 8 The Real Supercoach 2418 def Assassins 2150

Going into the semi-finals, Todd again couldn't get there. That was another poor season from him, not sure what he is more shit at, golf, footy tips or supercoach.

Brad talked all day & night about how great he was but lost to the Supercoach in the 1st week of finals by a massive 3pts.

Semi-finals was Supercoach V Gorillas (friends of Mal & Nathan) & Murphys Law v King of the Jungle (friends of Mal & Nathan)

It was the highest scoring week of the season

Gorillas 2637 beat Supercoach 2559

Murphys Law 2665 beat King of the Jungle 2645

Grand final

Murphys Law 2457 beat Gorillas 2405. Supercoach was pretty upset as his grand final score would've been 2550 but he loses his 1st Supercoach SLP Trophy.

The golfers need to lift their game so they don't let the loser tennis players that are friends with Mal & Nathan Griffith take all the cash in 2018.

Start doing a big preseason for 2018 Supercoach if you want a big chance to win some $$$.

Werribee Park Golf Results

August

Why would anyone urinate outside the toilet block?

The answer is simple. When Col Ewart dropped off his Saturday night curry at the toilets block on the ninth tee it was always going to be messy. After a few minutes Cols playing partners caught wind of the sounds and the pungent aroma drifting out of the walls of the toilet block and decided that it would be far safer to play on and leave Col to catch up when he was ready to do so. Ten minutes later while the group was playing their 4th shots into the green on the long Par 5 Col finally returned with a sheepish look on his face and said “Oh boy that wasn’t good but I feel much better now, I just hope nobody lights up a cigarette while they are down there.”

Evidently the EPA and bio hazard environmental engineers were summoned to investigate the nearby Werribee sewerage treatment plant late on Sunday afternoon when it was falsely accused of improper practice when the environmental pollutant alarm detectors reached a critical level and went off.

So strong was the smell from the toilet block that Big Mick monstered a 330 meter drive down the middle of the fairway to win the longest drive competition but in reality he just swung as hard as possible just to clear the area as quick as he could before his nostrils melted.

Even 3 groups later, Newell was busting to go to the toilet but he couldn’t get anywhere near the door to go inside to be discrete so the best he could actually manage was to stand within the vicinity of the toilet block and hope that people could understand we he wasn’t using the toilet properly.

Some people call golf a “funny game”, and others call it “whack and giggle”, however there is nothing at all that is humorous about shivering around a damp paddock in gale force winds, dodging intermittent showers and hail storms for more than four and a half hours only to be rewarded with numb fingers, pneumonia and an embarrassingly poor performance record on your career stats sheet. And that was pretty much the results of Sundays round for the entire 26 combatants who made the effort to play at Werribee park.

There was plenty of carnage out on the golf course, and that is not necessarily referring to the branches and trees that were blown over in the cyclonic winds. The carnage was on the scorecards. Dale shot the same score last month 97 off the stick yet finished 6 players higher in the place rankings at Werribee Park. Steve Powne improved by two strokes compared to his Bayviews score however even with a disappointing Nett score of 83 he finished in 8th position instead of 20th place. So brutal were the conditions that only the Top 4 players finished with a Nett score in the seventies and even the winner of the day played four strokes worse than par to his handicap.

Steve O'Sullivan was able to keep himself away from trouble, better than the all of the other victims of the Werribee storms. While others were calling for help, SOS was making birdies, pars and bogies and his only demise was when he dropped 5 shots to the field by making a double bogie on the 17th hole and triple bogie on the par 4 eighteenth hole. What's worse was that he actually three putted both holes because he had failed to allow for the change in speed caused by putting over the black ice that had formed on the greens after a heavy hail storm.

This month we are running a competition similar to where's Wally or a word search puzzle. The challenge is to try to find the golf ball which has been hidden somewhere on the green. Don't worry if you can't find it straight away, it is difficult to do, it took SOS 8 minutes of searching before he finally found it and that was only after some of the ice had melted and the movement of the ball caught his attention when a strong gust of wind moved the ball a couple of inches across the grass.

Finding a golf ball was often a major challenge, on several occasions the ball ducked down under the earth to join the worms for shelter away from the inclement conditions when a high shot landed in its own in its own plug hole. Ricks golf ball was found only a couple of meters off the back of the ninth green, Steve Powne rescued it and brought it back to the club house to reunite it with the rightful owner, only to discover that Rick had actually thrown it away in disgust after racking up a three putt green from only two meters from the cup. That would probably coincide with the scream of F#@K that came rumbling across the 4th fairway on the cold South Easterly breeze. Evidently the noise was reported as far away as Point Cook where the Bureau of Meteorology documented a single extraordinary humanized thunder clap. When the scream rolled passed, Colin Ewart who was five holes back turned to his playing partners who were cowering low and waiting for the ensuing lightning strike and said "don't worry that is not lightning and thunder it was just Tinna I'd recognise that scream anywhere."

If only Col could recognize his own golf ball as easily as he could identify Ricks noises. Poor Col lost more balls than a Zambian rapist. On the third hole Col hooked his ball into the scrub on the left side of the fairway. After a lengthy search he had retrieved 6 other golf balls but not his Optima No# 1. It wasn't until he arrived at the 5th tee some 25 minutes later that he finally found his beloved soon to be hated Optima waiting proudly for him on the tee. Col's rekindled acquaintance with the ball didn't last long because with his very next shot he proceeded to hook the Optima back over the trees and onto the open expanse of the 17th fairway. After yet another lengthy search Col was able to pocket another three golf balls (none of his own) but added a couple of extra strokes onto his score card because he was unable to find his actual correct ball. Seventy five strokes and more than 3 hours later as he arrived at the 17th tee where Col was once again reunited with the Optima 1 when it jumped back out of a worm hole and was found sitting in the open grass for all to see. Whether it was a deliberate self sacrifice or the curse of the Optima 1, Col knocked his drive on the 18th hole with a big splash straight into the dam and he never even bothered to go over to see if he could find the ball for the 4th time.

Highway had no difficulty finding his tee shot on the first hole. It should be noted however that it is always a lot easier to find your ball when you are only hitting the ball 30 meters and even more so when you hit it 30 meters into one of the greenskeepers sprinkler cabinets. After his practise rounds on Mon, Tues, Thurs and Friday ( He went to the driving range on Wednesday and Saturday) Newell was very excited about the prospect of a successful round at Werribee. Supposedly Newell was hitting the ball so well at Ringwood that he actually had 4 birdie putts, (3 pars and a bogie ((No legitimate witnesses')) over a nine hole stretch. In anticipation of his successes he had even allocated a designated driver so that he could have a few celebratory ales on Sunday afternoon on the way home. Any hope of victory went out the window, or should we say into the window when his first stroke disappeared into the opening of the sprinkler box on the side of the fairway. There are plenty of things that only Newell could possibly do on the golf course and this was yet another oneto add to his repertoire.

There is never a dull moment when you are paired up with Highway for a game of golf and who knows what else Newell will be able to bring out of his bag of tricks over the ensuing months, but one thing is for certain once word gets out about his bag of tricks he may have plenty of people queing up to join his group. Evidently when SOS said he needed something to warm him up and to help him to celebrate his monthly victory Newell produced from his bag of tricks something that gave a new definition as to why his peers refer to him as Highway.

Perhaps Newell needs to share his Highway, bag of tricks with the English Illegal immigrant because Tom Kellythorn needs to chill out. Tom had yet another solid round meaning that he has extended his almost unsurmountable lead over his nearest rivals with another top 5 finish. The club is currently investigating a number of different solutions to try to find a way to curtail the momentum of the English juggernaut and maybe a session with Newell might just be the answer.

Stu

We have even consulted the club rule books and have also booked a seat at the High Court of Australia to try to ride off the back of the Barnaby Joyce ruling in an attempt to try to have Tom suspended using section 44 of the Australian constitution “the dual citizenship law”. The only problem with this theory is that if it actually works it might be at the sacrifice of some other very good men because we could possibly lose the following guys.

Will Fernie (Scotland) Damien Vanterpool (USA) Tony Grasso (Italy) John Mea (3 countries) Gerard, Tony, Leigh and Brendan MacIsaac (Dutch/Canadian) Chris (could change his name to Smith) & Mark Sfiligoj (Yugoslavia) John Murphy (must be from Ireland) Todd Neilson (Canada) Rick Turcinovic (Croatia) Steve O’Sullivan (speaks for itself) Vedran Martinovic (Germany) and Mark Fitzpatrick (another Irishman).

Although Tom is undeniably a typical Pommie there must also be a link back to Ireland in his genealogy somewhere because he seems to have the luck of the Irish out on the golf course. If ever a person could have more good fortune it is yet to be documented. The number of times an errant ball caught a branch and landed in the middle of the fairway or a bad putt lipped in.

On the first hole Toms second shot out of the bunker was a skinned 3 iron which bounced off the drainage vent in the middle of the bunker, ricocheted of a rake and then exited out of the trap rolling along the grass the entire 147 meters towards the green before coming to rest only 8 feet from the flag to set up a very makeable birdie opportunity on a shot which really should have resulted in a triple or quadruple bogie. What’s worse was he never acknowledged the mishit and acted as if he had meant it.

Compare Toms lucky break to the misfortune experienced with Glen Douglas’s golf ball which was declared lost on the third hole in spite all parties in the playing group watching the ball land directly in the middle of the bunker. It was thought that the ball must have been submerged in the deep puddles left in the trap from the heavy rains but it was only later discovered that the ball was playing hide and seek under the rake. The irony was that , was that if Glen had had enough etiquette to rake the bunker like he should have, then he would have found the ball as soon as he picked up the rake.

It was a tough day for Douggo, who quickly learned that Werribee park is one of the few golf courses in Australia that is better suited to a right handed golfer than a lefty, which meant the powerful left handers slice worked against him on most occasions.

Douggo spent most of the day wearing an extra layer of clothing, as he was required to don the Three Putt Monkey vest on 6 or 7 different occasions.

The only time that Glen actually looked comfortable with the flat stick was on the eighteenth green when he chipped in for a birdie three with his pitching wedge from 15 meters away meaning he was able to leave the putter safely tucked away in the golf bag.

Stu Coops chipped in for a zero putt on the 5th hole, Big Mick marked a birdie on his score card without ever using the putter on the 11th hole. Newell and also got a gobble on the fifteenth hole.

Brendan MacIsaac also had an interesting day with the putter, it was like the weather at Werribee Park, either hot or cold. Brendan had an incredible 8 one putt greens which is usually the building block for a great round of golf. Unfortunately he only had 3x two putt greens so he counteracted his good holes with equally as many bad holes and 4x three putts and 3x four putts put him on the negative side of the putting ledger. It was great to see Brendan back out on the golf course, he has been hamstrung with injury for the majority of the year so it was a brave effort to front up at Werribee Park. Speaking of bravery what an effort by Leigh to make a last minute appearance. Three weeks ago Leigh was in an ambulance on his way to hospital with broken ribs, broken collar bone, severely bruised hip and suspected punctured lung after a motor cross accident. Incredibly after such a short time frame of healing Leigh was able to swing a golf club and considering the injury list he did a commendable job to make it around the course at all.

Vedran Martinovic nearly did himself an injury while trying to play a shot with a 150 meter distance marker stuffed up his clacker. Poor Vedran landed his drive alongside a marker on the 14th hole and when he asked for a ruling he was told by El Presidente that he had to play it as it lies. The tragedy was not that poor Vedran ended up having an airswing (that was a bonus as it resulted in an extra $2 in the fine jar) , not that he nearly dislocated his back (he got an extra long weekend because he had to take Monday off to see the doctor) but the tragedy was that if he had he taken the free drop that he was entitled to, then he would have finished up in 3rd place for the day and taken some championship points off Tom the Illegal British immigrant. It is always good to have a clear understanding of the rules and also to ask your partner for advice if you are unsure, but it is probably best not to ask SOS for help when he is in a winning position because he will give you the bum steer like he did in this instance. It's no wonder Vedran has started calling El Presidente SOB in the car park instead of SOS.

24-2 Immovable Obstruction

The Rule

Decisions

27

The Rule Explained

a. Interference

Interference by an immovable obstruction occurs when a ball lies in or on the obstruction, or when the obstruction interferes with the player's stance or the area of his intended swing. If the player's ball lies on the putting green, interference also occurs if an immovable obstruction on the putting green intervenes on his line of putt. Otherwise, intervention on the line of play is not, of itself, interference under this Rule.

b. Relief

Except when the ball is in a water hazard or a lateral water hazard, a player may take relief from interference by an immovable obstruction as follows:

Another rule which leads to a great deal of confusion within the Sunday Leave Pass Social club is the penalty taken for a lost ball. It might be an opportune time to clarify our expected format for when you lose your ball or hit it out of bounds but don't have the energy to walk all of the way back to the tee or back to where you played your shot from. As a matter of consistency we will refer back to the policy we created to combat this regular situation. The R&A rules of golf relating to a lost ball is Rule 27-1 "stroke plus distance penalty for a lost ball." Meaning you should count the stroke you played, add a one shot penalty and play your next shot from the same spot you hit from.

PENALTY FOR BREACH OF LOCAL RULE. STROKE PLAY = Two Strokes Penalty

The only variation on the stroke event to normal club competition is that in the event when a ball is deemed lost, rather than walk back to the tee to play another shot or be disqualified by DNF, the player can take a penalty of stroke plus distance and drop the ball in the area where the ball was last seen or at the location where it was thought to be lost. (For example after a lost tee shot the player will drop a ball where the ball was deemed lost and they will be hitting their 4th shot from there.)

We have created the option to drop where the ball should be to in order to save time and allow you to play your next shot from where the ball went out of bounds or where you think the ball was lost but you need to actually add two (2) penalty strokes to your score not just one. The reason it is a two shot penalty is because you are counting the distance that you have gained by moving forward as an extra shot.

An example of this would be Stu Coops on the 11th hole on Sunday when Stu hit his ball out of bounds into the river on the right. Stu opted to play the ball from where the ball crossed over the out of bounds line rather than hitting his third shot from back at the tee box. He was therefore playing his fourth shot from where he dropped the ball. Stu successfully hit his fourth shot back onto the fairway before managing to hit his fifth shot into the river again. So by definition of the penalty of stroke plus distance when he dropped his ball that time, he was playing his eighth shot. There is a significant difference between taking a one shot penalty and taking the required stroke plus distance penalty. In this instance it was the difference between writing a nine on the score card or getting a Newell plus 1 (score of 11) and it would change Stu's place ranking from 10th to 6th place on the points distribution if he took the lesser penalty which is a common SLP practise.

27-1 Stroke and Distance; Ball Out of Bounds; Ball Not Found Within Five Minutes

The Rule Decisions 5 The Rule Explained

a. Proceeding Under Stroke and Distance

At any time, a player may, under penalty of one stroke, play a ball as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was last played (see Rule 20-5), i.e. proceed under penalty of stroke and distance.

Except as otherwise provided in the Rules, if a player makes a stroke at a ball from the spot at which the original ball was last played, he is deemed to have proceeded under penalty of stroke and distance.

b. Ball Out of Bounds

If a ball is out of bounds, the player must play a ball, under penalty of one stroke, as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was last played (see Rule 20-5).

c. Ball Not Found Within Five Minutes

If a ball is lost as a result of not being found or identified as his by the player within five minutes after the player's side or his or their caddies have begun to search for it, the player must play a ball, under penalty of one stroke, as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was last played (see Rule 20-5).

In what can only be described as character building conditions it was a credit to all of the players except for Brad to have finished the round. Never has there been so many players competing to try to win the yellow vest because it added an extralayer of protection from the elements and the three putt monkey kept you warm in freezing conditions.

Steve O'Sullivan was the best of the field winning the day with a respectable stroke score of 88 Nett 76. Mick Harper ran in as the bridesmaide shooting the lowest gross score 86 off the bat.

Vedrans airswing opened up the door for Tom Kellythorn who continues to loitre around the top of the leaderboard. With another 3rd place finish Tom has moved 24 points ahead of the pack and his points score is only 3 points shy of the winning score in 2016 and there is still four rounds yet to be played.

Vedran had his best finish for his career and in truth it was probably only a dodgy ruling by the El Presidente that prevented him from actually taking out the monthly title.

Chris Sfiligoj carried the pink vest over the line however with his shoes put on the correct feet this month he refound his form and his strong top 5 ranking at Werribee Park means he will be gladly handing the beer wench crown over to Brad Hughes after he failed to complete his round. Brad walked off after 9 holes.

Tom has moved 24 points clear of his nearest rival so it will be a real challenge to reign him in from where he currently stands. There is still 60 points on offer if anyone player can win the next four months in a row anything is possible, but Tom has already started writing his victory speech and is strongly placed to break the record for the most points scored in a SLP season.

A word from our sponsors

Special Thanks to Dale Robinson who is the longest serving sponsor for the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club. Dale runs a printing business and is offering a high quality printing service. He will gladly do a good deal for any Sunday Leave Pass members wanting to order business cards, fliers or any other printed material. To find out more information about what he can do for you he can be contacted on 0438147788.

Remember that any printing job ordered through DNR print via the social club, Dale will donate 5% of the proceeds directly back to social club which offers us the opportunity to provide better prizes for everyone and it is good to keep your business opportunities within the network if it is possible. Wood Tech, my previous company Hudson Bond and even the Super-coach (believe it or not) have actually used Dale's business and everyone that had done so speaks very highly of the service and work that he produces.

Sponsored by

For those who were not aware of the "hole in one prize", any player who scores a hole in one or an Albatross during a Sunday Leave Pass event will win a complimentary Chauffeur Driven Winery Tour for 2x people through the Yarra Valley, courtesy of Evergreen Winery Tours. So start aiming at the hole we want to give it away this year there was a few close calls over the years but we are still yet to achieve the perfect shot despite more than 17000 attempts since 2004.

(In 1999, Golf Digest reported, "One insurance company puts a PGA Tour pro's chances at 1 in 3,756 and an amateur's at 1 in 12,750.")
The Golf Digest study even breaking the odds down by quality of play:

- Professional Tour player making an ace: 3,000 to 1
- Low-handicapper making an ace: 5,000 to 1
- Average player making an ace: 12,000 to 1

Based on this information we are due any time so make sure you turn up to play as it may just be you that claims the ultimate prize.
