2013 GOLF TRIP

RICH RIVER

Fitzy will be chasing every one up for the money for the bus trip shortly. Based on expressions of interest the cost per head will be $50.

There will be two pick up points. One will be at Blackburn and the other will a bit further out to the south east.

Yes I would like to go by Mini Bus

No I will make my own travel plans

The byes over the last 3 weeks have made picking a decent team difficult. It's hard to score well when your entire midfield is sitting on the bench.

The next few weeks will sort out the ladder positions and which coaches will make the finals. So let's just wait and see what happens.

There was little change on the footy tipping ladder this week. Most tipsters put down exactly the same teams and everyone was hurt by Sydney's shock loss to Port Adelaide and Geelong's massive choke against Brisbane.

Congratulations to Sally Bermo who got the highest score for the week as she was the only person brave enough to tip against the cats.

SOS is one point on top of the ladder ahead of Phil Plane who is in a slow and steady Miss Daisy style pursuit.

SLP Mystery Image Competition

This month we have introduced a new competition into the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club. What will happen is each month we are going to put up an image of a photo and you need to guess what the photo is actually taken of. There will be a prize for the first person to email the correct answer to stodaydream@gmail.com and the winner of the competition receives a golf ball.

If you know what this is then send your answer to studaydream@gmail.com for the chance to win.

If you need a clue you can click on the photo and you will get a hint.

Werribee Park Golf Course Results June

What a difference a month can make. At the end of May, Greg Breasley was sitting 7 points clear on the championship point's leader board, and then suddenly 4 weeks later he is arrears by 7 points. It just goes to show how much consistency is an important factor in the season champion's trophy. Unfortunately for Greg, his worst round for 2013 did not put him in the points rundown and he only received the cursory 1 point for turning up, whereas his nearest rival, Gerard MacIsaac was one of the few players who completed the back nine at Werribee Park without falling in a heap. Gerard shot the lowest score for the day (83) off the stick and with his handicap of 10; it was good enough to win him his 7th monthly title, 15 championship points and allowed him to jump out into a commanding point's leader position.

In near perfect conditions on a brilliant golf course, the more difficult back nine was the downfall for many of the golfers. Slinky shot 45 on the front nine and had even borrowed a napkin and pen off the girl in the half way house as he began to pen his victory speech. Had it not been for a hiccup on the Par 3 fifteenth hole he may have come pretty close to presenting the speech too. Unfortunately Long John had a misadventure in the deep bunker in front of the fifteenth green and was unable to get his flop up, and therefore couldn't get his balls past the front lip. It took Slinky 9 shots to get out of the sand and he finished the short par three with a triple, triple bogie (twelve). Slinky did however make up for the blow out when, two holes later he hit his tee shot with his driver straight onto the long par three 17th hole green, and won the NTP on the 17th and made a very easy par.

Greg Breasley was tracking ahead of his handicap when he bought his first beer at the pie shop at the end of the ninth hole. Unfortunately that was the start of the end for Big Ball Breasley who only scored 10 stableford points on the back nine, compared to his 19 on the front side including 6 three pointers out of 7 holes. Such is the transformation in Greg's game that, he now curses himself for missing a par putt, when in the past he used to celebrate making one for double bogie.

Stu Coops was playing a very conservative round. He waltzed around the front nine using his three wood and therefore keeping the golf ball on the correct fairway. His reward was a respectable score of 44 at the turn. The lure of the longest drive prize and out muscling Mick Harper in the process was all too much for him and on the tenth hole the driver was taken out of retirement. Two golf balls later Stu was marking his scorecard with a nine and then he backed up the next hole with another lost ball and a score of quadruple bogie 8. The back nine saw Stu tumbling down the place rankings, he scored a disastrous 55 on the run home all because he got adventurous and dusted the icicles off the unreliable driver which as was to be expected instantly directed him onto all of the wrong parts of the golf course.

Stu wasn't the only person to get a bit wayward with the one wood. SOS had some troubles of his own. Steve produced a few large block-slices (which could have just about been called shanks) which found some of the parts of the golf course that are recommended to be avoided. Also for the first time since he was 15 years old, Steve O'Sullivan failed to hit his ball past the ladies tee and there could be no denying it happened since our resident photographer managed to capture the moment on film. In the true spirit of the club, Steve happily donated his $5-00 to the golf trip fine jar fund and he has also promised to do it again next month at Rosebud where they place the squatters tee's up to 100 meters in front of the men's tee's.

Although the moment wasn't captured on film, it is alleged the Tony Grasso Junior also had a similar incident on the 13th hole. In fact it actually took Tony Junior three shots to get his ball past the ladies tee.

The fine jar BBQ slush fund finally got a bit of a boost this month with plenty of penalties being dished out. Newcomer Stuart Holbrook who plays off a handicap of 10 at Waterford Valley managed to hit two shanks for the day as he was quickly dragged kicking and squealing back to a Sunday Leave Pass standard of golf.

Peter Hutson played a square cut that Don Bradman would have been proud of. Pete's approach to the fourth green hit the hazzle of his 7 iron and instead of going straight at the target it would have flown between third slip and gully on a cricket pitch. Dale Robinson and Phil Plane both copped a fine for being late to their hit off times.

The trip to Werribee Park is always a long one. Although Greg Parsons racked up over 212km on the return trip to the golf course from Mount Martha, it was Dale and Phil who failed to make the journey on time. Dale was restricted to the passenger seat because he was still over the 0.05 limit when he fell out of bed on Sunday morning having attended a trivia night at the local footy club on Saturday. As a matter of responsibility to public safety Phil was assigned the responsibility of designated driver. This sounded good in theory until it was discovered that Phil suffers from Motorists Vestibular Syndrome. Which basically means; he has a fear of driving another person's car at speed. As the clock ticked and Dale dozed in and out of consciousness he realised that all of the cars were rocketing past him on the freeway like he was standing still. Initially he thought it was just a group of hoons having a drag race, but after watching a bus load of old nuns towing a trailer, drive past his side window at double his speed; he suddenly realized something must be wrong. The speed signs on the verge showed 100, but when Dale looked at the digital speedometer he was shocked to see that the car was only doing 76kph. It was a heated conversation that followed and it took some restraint to stop Dale from jumping in the driver's seat himself. Although we can't repeat most of what was said in the car, the conversation went along the lines of "Phil would you stop driving like Miss Daisy and make sure that we actually get to golf today" Although Phil (his new nickname is MISS DAISY) did manage to get the speedo nudging 88kph in the 100 zone, the boys still failed to get to the tee on time and their playing partners were already hitting off on the first tee whilst they were still unloading the car.

Perhaps Phil was saving all of his driving energy for the longest drive hole since he was looking odds on favourite to win the prize with only a couple of groups left to go. Phil had his name on the longest drive marker almost right up until the death and it was only the power hitting Big Mick Harper who managed to smash one out past Phil's marker by 13 meters. Whoops that was a typo error it wasn't 13 meters it was actually 136 meters past the previous Longest Drive marker.

Micks drive was so massive it made Phil's drive look like it was hit with a 7 iron. However things didn't always go that well for the big fella. On the 18th he managed to hit two balls out to the right and they disappeared down into the crevice alongside the 16th tee. In hindsight it was lucky there was no one on the tee at the time as a ball strike from a wayward Mick Harper drive would most likely be fatal. Somehow Mick managed to abseil down the steep bank, find both golf balls, hit his 60 degree lob wedge backup onto the golf course and complete the hole with a REMAKULOUS bogie.

Seeing Micks ball disappear into an area where people could have been standing unaware of the dangers they were in was a sobering reminder just how dangerous the game of golf can be at times. Take for example the poor Chinese guys who went out for a friendly social hit at the Dorset Golf Course last Friday afternoon. Apparently there are some players who think that when they go for a round, they mistake a round of golf for a few boxing rounds, and it turns out that one of those players is our own Brendan Seagrave (alias Grumpy.)

Evidently a fracas occurred at Dorset last Friday when Brendan took his son out for a bit of father-son bonding time. All the trouble began when Brendan's son had hit his ball out onto an adjoining fairway and then absentmindedly walked out to hit his ball which had landed in front of group of 3x Asian Gentleman who were standing at the tee preparing to play their shots. "请先生下车打我们的球道，我们是不会伤害你。" which loosely translated means "Please sir, get off our fairway we are about to hit and we would hate to hurt you") was yelled from the tee back at the boy who had inadvertently walked directly into danger as one of the Foreign Business delegates prepared to take his shot. Unfortunately Brendan's grasp of the Chinese language is not quite his strongest point and he interpreted the comment as "Hey you little turd, if you don't get out of my way right now I am going to hit my golf ball at you and karate kick your lily white Aussie butt all the way to Ho Chi Min City." Obviously Brendan didn't take to kindly to someone yelling at his pride and joy, he took offence to the comments and stormed up to the tee to explain to the rude Chinaman why his friends all call him Grumpy. While Brendan's son hit his ball back out of the danger zone some universally recognizable paraphrases were exchanged and some spittle was emitted between both parties. But then all hell broke loose when the Chinese Minister for Foreign Affairs actually duffed his shot and the ball didn't travel the required distance to where Brendan's son had had been standing. Brendan giggled and said "Hah you D#%KHEAD you didn't even get that far anyway." "Why don't you just go and F#%KOFF" came the reply in perfect English. The next second Brendan was back up on the tee box and pushed the Chinese Minister in the chest causing him to fall down the side of the embankment. There was a scuffle and one of the other guys ran at Brendan ninja style with a golf club in his hand. He was also quickly disposed of with a couple of punches in the stomach and the third member of the delegation just cowered in the corner not sure whether to run away and hide or risk the wrath of the obviously deluded Madman who was beating the living daylights out of his associates. Fortunately no one was killed during the incident however Australia's reputation as raging group of racist thugs probably was reinforced and news of the latest racist attack is currently circulating globally.

This was the front page of last Saturday mornings Beijing Times Newspaper. I'm not quite sure what it actually says but after Friday's effort on the golf course I would suggest something along the lines of recommending Brendan Seagrave for nominations for the 2013 Angryman award and also a travel advisory notice against Chinese Tourists playing golf while visiting Australia.

It was good that Brendan didn't bash up any of his playing partners or put anyone from the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club over the fence on Sunday, although he did manage to lose his; to quote him verbatim “un-losable fluorescent yellow glowing golf ball” with one hit when he smacked his drive straight out of bounds and into the driving range running alongside the first tee.

Peter Hutson nearly took out Stu Coops on the 7th hole although it wasn't with his fists but with his golf ball. Pete tried to take on the trees on the dog leg Par 4 but didn't get his ball high enough and it rattled through the leaves and then smashed into a tree sending Stu Coops diving for cover on the ground. Luckily the ball didn't hit him, but it was close enough to have him doing commando rolls in the sodden earth. Unfortunately for Peter the shot cost him a penalty for a lost ball as he was unable to find where it finished up. When his partners asked where the ball went his reply was quite simple. “I have no idea where it went because I was too busy watching Stu doing somersaults to see where the ball went.”

There was no problems finding Peters ball on the 15th hole because all three of his shots on the par 3 hole, were played in front of a packed audience from all of the members and guests from the Werribee Park Club house who had previously been entertained by Slinky digging in the sand like a frenzied pirate looking for treasure and also Stuart Holbrook who’s shank nearly landed up alongside them in the viewing platform.

Although his tee shot landed in the same bunker that Slinky had only minutes before had nine shots to get out of (the sand was perfectly raked smooth from one end to the other) Peter was unfazed by the deep, steep bank that stood before him. His sand iron hit the ball straight out of the pot and into the safety of the middle of the green. A five meter putt straight into the back of the cup and it was a brilliant up and down for par. Peter saluted and bowed to the gallery of spectators looking on who gave him a raucous cheer from the viewing platform above the green.

Considering the dew on the green and the rain that we have already had this winter, the greens at Werribee Park were incredibly fast. Many players took several holes to adjust to the speed of the greens and others such as Steve O’Sullivan never came to terms with them at all. Trevor on the other hand produced his best putting performance ever. We are not sure whether it was a coincidence that on the first time Trevor was partnered up with Gerard MacIsaac (the putting wizard) and suddenly his putt score for the round dropped by 9 strokes below his career average. Trevor’s score card represented a binary code chart with nearly all ones and zeros written in the putting column. It took Trevor only 13 Putts to complete the back nine and he seemed quite happy to hand over a sneaky $20 to Gerard in the car park after the golf. We are currently investigating if the cash exchange was for a putting lesson during the round or whether he was paying Gerard for actually putting on his behalf. All will be revealed next month when they are playing in separate groups, if the putting form suffers a sudden relapse then we can only presume the payment was for the latter and a bit of sneaky business has been going on.

Ben Nichol had very little trouble with the putting process either, in fact on several occasions he didn’t even need to take the flat stick out of his golf bag. Ben chipped in for birdie on the eighth hole and the again on the 10th hole for par. Joe Haifa almost chipped on the 12th hole but unfortunately his ball bounced off the base off the flag stick and finished only inches from the cup. Poor Joe was devastated and he was convinced that he shouldn’t have to count the tap in putt cos the ball had already hit the flag which was in the hole so in Joes is opinion that was close enough.

Gerard MacIsaac was the Monthly winner for the second time in season 2013. Tony MacIsaac is continuing to feature at the top of the leader board and narrowly missed his first ever title to Brother Gerard, losing in a countback with a score of Nett 73. Tony had a blistering front nine but was unable to maintain the momentum on the back half of the course and unfortunately that is the most important nine since the countback score is formulated as the number of stableford points a player scored on the back nine. Since the majority of the field struggled to score well, the non-handicap golfers have featured at the top end of the leadboard place rankings. Mills and Fedi finished in 3rd and 4th position and then a very generous handicap to Stuart Holbrook enabled him to place in the top 5 on his first game with the social club.

The most significant ranking for the week was Steve Powne’s beer wench qualifying performance. This could be a trend we will need to become accustomed too as Steve is familiarising himself with the concept of wearing the pink dress as the golf trip draws nearer. The final place standings for Werribee Park were as follows:

Dale Robinson NTP    15th hole at Werribee Park

Reminder

The ball must be clearly on the CUT surface of the green or fairway to win NTP or longest drive. If it is not on the fairway it doesn't count.

Each player won 1 ball each.

Just a reminder that for every round you play you are awarded a raffle ticket to go towards the end of year raffle, then extra tickets are issued if you wear the official club shirt plus extra tickets can also be won by winning a hole in the monthly skins competition.

“SKINS” were distributed to those players good enough to win a hole outright. If more than 1 player got the lowest score on a hole it is Jackpotted until an outright winner occurs. Incredibly after the fourth hole there were 14 jackpots in a row so only a handful of skins were given away this month.

Next time you are thinking of buying some golf equipment it is worth remembering to visit them at the Burwood Drummond store and mention the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club and they will look after you.

Drummond have recently introduced the Drummond club which entitles you to life time access to, member discounts in store and at other golfing venues around Melbourne, discounted green fees at more than 100 golf courses, access to VIP nights and invitation to Golf days and events, monthly magazine and much, much, more.

To join the Drummond Club it is a one off payment of $40 and that puts you on their data base and email list where you will remain for as long as you wish to be there. A life time membership for less than $50 is very good value.

Attached is a registration form just in case you wish to join up or you can do so whenever you go in store to make a purchase and you can register as part of the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club which benefits you and the social club in the long run.

Don't forget that Dale runs a printing business and is offering incredibly reduced printing work for any Sunday Leave Pass members wanting to order business cards, fliers or any other print material. To preview his rates you can click on the following link.

Remember that any printing job ordered through DNR print via the social club, Dale will donate 5% of the proceeds directly back to social club which offers us the opportunity to provide better prizes for everyone for the end of year raffle.

For those who were not aware of the "hole in one prize", any player who scores a hole in one or an Albatross during a Sunday Leave Pass event will win a complimentary Chauffeur Driven Winery Tour for 2x people through the Yarra Valley, courtesy of Evergreen Winery Tours. So start aiming at the hole we want to give it away this year there was a few close calls in 2012 but we are still yet to achieve the perfect shot despite more than 8330 attempts since 2004.
