It's not too late to join the footy tipping comp, we were hoping to get all of our members playing this year, but the take up has been slow. The cost is less than $1-00 per week for the entire season. Total cost is $20 outlay with the chance to win a cash prize for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place for the season. If you sign up now you would still be on equal pegging with everyone else as you would be awarded the Sydney Victory over Greater Western Sydney as they were the away team.

Just Log in to www.footytips.com.au then register by following the prompts if you haven't done so already. Then go to the Join competition tab and look for our club. ## Yarrambat Golf Course Results March

What a glorious day it was for the not so young MattyMaclsaac. The prospect of his brand new set of duty free golf clubs returning from China courtesy of his dad was enough to put him in the swing of things. Matt scored 92 off the stick Nett 67, and he finished 3x shots clear of his nearest rival giving him a very convincing victory and the March title. Matt's golf game has matured over the years just as he has. It's hard to comprehend that the man who stands amongst us now, is the same innocent fresh faced 15 year old who joined the club in 2006. These days Matt is built like a brick wall, he is hitting the ball like a sledge hammer and it looks like he might only be a new set of golf clubs away from moving beyond his dad's hard earned skill level. When you consider Matt was ranked 22/23 for putting this month with 40 strokes with the flat stick, it shows that he has still left so many shots out on the golf course and he could have easily scored a Mick Harper or Gerard Maclsaac type of score.

Matts mate, Sam Creaton did not fair quite so well, he was still swaying drunk when he stood up on the first tee and not even a double bogey, triple double bogie start was enough to sober him up. Sam had been out painting the town red on Saturday night, in fact he had only just fallen into bed at 6-00am on Sunday morning when the alarm clock went off and Matt knocked on the door to pick him up ready to drive him to golf. The day was long and painful for Sam and by the end, he was hanging off the back of Fitzy's golf cart as fatigue and the alcohol withdraw symptoms started to kick in. It's believed that Sam would make a good candidate for the Physical wreck award and dethrone Stu Coops if he goes on the golf trip as it is obvious he likes to play pretty hard and he looked like a corpse by the time he finished putting out on the 18th green.

Rick T hadn't been up all night drinking, in fact he was in bed by 730pm on Saturday night but at one stage it appeared as though he was going for a snooze in the bushes. After belting his hybrid club though the back of the Par 3, 14th hole, Rick ended up lying on his belly as he tried to extricate himself from what can only be described as an impossible lie. Rather than take the easy way out with a penalty unplayable lie, Rick chose instead to contort himself into all sorts of unnatural angles and body positions. "I got myself into this shit, so I can get myself back out of it." Was all he said, as even the local Kangaroo's looked on with confused expressions because Rick was climbing into an area where not even they would dare to venture. As he climbed under and through the shrubs to try to hit his ball, Rick had branches sticking into almost every orifice in his body. Still there was no cussing or goat fondling, his only comments about the diabolical position that he had gotten himself into was, that how he wished he still had his old broken putter because it would have come in handy. Incredibly Rick managed to make a shot at the ball and even more remarkable was the fact that he actually got it back out onto the manicured parts of the golf course and the ball even finished on the green. Despite going on to 3x putt the hole, it was an amazing effort that very few people would have been capable of.

Rick wasn't quite so proficient on the Par 3, 8th hole where he converted a near perfect tee shot, (just caught the lip of the bunker otherwise it would have been all over the flag) into an eight. Rick had five shots in the bunker including an air-swing and he almost lost his ball down a fox hole which had been dug into the lip of the sand trap. Surprisingly the 2011 Angryman Award title holder still managed to keep his calm and not a single goat fondling remark was muttered.

Anthony Hogg. Has no fear of being crowned an Angryman. The newcomer from England went about his game with a jovial spirit and relaxed demeanour. It should be said, by his own standards, Anthony did not have the best of days on the golf course but he remained undeterred by his missing form. He was a welcome newcomer to the club and he quickly added his first contribution to the Christmas Charity fine jar when he failed to hit his ball past the ladies tees. "Werl I'll be forked, wood ya forken werl look at that, me forken tee went forken werl further than the ball. How Shyte." Was all he could say with a massive grin on his face.

Anthony was in good company and not the only one in his group to struggle on the picturesque Yarrambat layout. On the 16th hole all 4x of the players in his group managed to put their ball in the lake from the tee. The amazing thing about the game of golf is that everyone plays their own game and people can get the same outcome despite the difference in the way the hole is played. The 16th hole is a downhill 160 meter Par 3 with a water carry from a very elevated tee. Steve O'Sullivan the low marker in the group hit a sand wedge onto the front edge of the green, but he accidentally put a little bit too much back spin on the stroke and the ball sucked back off the green down the front slope and finished in the lake. Peter Hutson hit a skinny seven iron which rolled along the ground scuttling a flock of ducks before splashing in the pond only meters from where Steve's ball had perished. Anthony on the other hand, hit a solid 5 iron but it caught an overhanging branch which knocked the ball into the middle of the rapidly filling water hazard. Brendan Seagrave hit his best shot for the day with his driver, but unfortunately he didn't have the strength and carry to get over the lake and his ball aided by the forces of gravity trundled down the hill with just enough energy to also finish in the pond. Grumpy didn't take the lost ball from his best shot very well. He cursed and cursed and vowed that he would never be coming to the crappy Yarrambat golf course ever again. On the contrary, Anthony the English Gentleman, smiled obligingly, and laughed at his own misfortune. He even generously offered Brendan a replacement golf ball despite the fact that Anthony himself also hit his next shot in the drink as well.

Greg Parsons played a lovely shot into the Par 3, 12th hole and came very close to winning the nearest to pin however after the ball rolled up on to the green, it stopped for about a minute or so but then a gust of wind and the slope of the green caused the ball to roll back down off the green and finished nearly 30 meters off the putting surface. Luckily Greg was having a brilliant day with the Pitching wedge and he was able to chip his ball stone dead and made an easy tap in for Par. Greg chipped like a pro for the entire day, he hit the flagstick on the 5th hole and finished 3 inches behind the cup, he lipped out a 20 meter chip on the 9th hole and then holed out for par with a sand wedge from 47 meters out on the 13th hole. Unfortunately despite the prowess with the lofted clubs Greg battled with other components of his game and he was at the back of the field finishing in 21st place behind Fitzy and Slinky who also found the going pretty tough.

Fitzy has always been one of the most consistent players in the competition, he averages better than top 10 finish every time he plays, but obviously his voluntary absence over the last couple of seasons has meant that his game has deteriorated badly. This month he was unable to live up to his reputation and his celebrity guest appearance at Yarrambat was a disappointment for all concerned. Mark shot 100 off the stick including a five putt on the green of the third hole for the day.

Slinky had the toughest of tough days, and Sunday will probably be one day he would rather forget. Slinky, dethroned Peter Hutson from the Beer Wench title with a very uncharacteristic score of 122 off the stick. Extraordinarily, Slinky was slapped with a $2-00 fine for throwing his golf club in frustration which is unimaginable from the ever smiling Slinkster and he was also given another fine $2-00 fine for answering his mobile phone while on the golf course. The tragic part about when John got the phone call was that it was from his brother in law and as the dedicated and committed golfer that he is, he quickly answered the phone and said that he was sorry but he can't talk now because he was out on the golf course and he would call him back later when his game was finished. Slinky then hung up on his brother in-law abruptly, even before he had a chance to explain the reason for the call. Sadly when he called back John discovered the reason for the call was that his brother in law was letting him know that a long suffering family relative had just passed away. We offer our sincere condolences to the Mea family, and don't want to make light of a very sad event but we would like to congratulate John on his commitment to the game of golf, especially since he still came to the bar to pay his fines and tell us a few tales about his day out on the golf course before leaving to console the family about their tragic loss.

Some good scores this month, and very tightly packed leader board with countback determining many of the place rankings. Congratulations to Matty MacIsaac for winning the monthly title.
