Sunday Leave Pass Members Night.

This Tuesday 2nd September 6pm.

Just a reminder that we have booked the SLP members Drummond night for this Tuesday. Originally we had about 18 guys express interest in the night and hopefully the majority of you can still make it this Tuesday. The night will run from 6.00pm to 7.00 pm or later depending on final numbers.

The night will be an opportunity for Drummonds to meet the members of the club and they have bundled up some good special deals for us with good discounts on hardware, shoes, apparel and accessories for us to take advantage of.

Drummonds will also provide some food and drink and they will give us all the opportunity to test some of the latest gear on flight scope (VIRTUAL GOLF MACHINE), which will include a couple of little competitions. i.e.) NTP longest drive etc.

Yarrambat Golf Course Results

August

What would motivate anyone to drive from Mt Martha to Yarrambat for a round of golf other than insanity is yet to be explained. However the 170km round trip, and 2 & 1/2 hours in the car were actually worthwhile for Greg Parsons who carded his best score for 2014, in fact his round at Yarrambat was his best score since October 2009 when he carded a 21 over par 90 at Dorset to wrap up the seasons points championship trophy.

While a few of the big guns failed to get going in the difficult windy conditions, Greg played brilliantly. Even under the duress of attempted sabotage and sledging from Gerard and Dale, Greg remained staunch in his resolve. Greg was unfazed even when he fell victim to the old school boy antics of the stick in the water bubbler trick. Greg nearly blew the hat off his head when he followed Dale to the drinking fountain to rehydrate himself. What he didn't realize was that Dale had set him up and he put a stick into the water dispenser creating a buildup of extra water pressure. When Greg turned on the tap a spurt of water shot up into his eyes and face and witnesses' say that the look on his face was absolutely priceless.

Greg's round almost came unraveled on the 17th hole when the experienced campaigner, Gerard started to get into his head. Having shown such poise and control for 16 holes in a row, Gerard decided it was time to bring the budding ice-cream entrepreneur back to reality. As Greg stood over his driver, Gerard asked the simple innocuous question, "Do you breathe in or do you breathe out during your backswing?" Needless to say Greg stuffed the tee shot up, botched the next one and hacked his way along the entire fairway. By the time he putted in for a quadruple bogie 8, he had almost stopped breathing completely because he suddenly realized that he was experiencing the perfect choke. Luckily Greg was able to regain his composure on the eighteenth hole and he made a bogie on the last to hold out for a one stroke victory over Steve Powne.

Colin Ewart had an extraordinary round, to use an old golf euphemism he was brilliant from tee to green. Colin hit 100% of his drives on the fairway and was rolling putts in from anywhere and everywhere. Col completed the 18 holes with less than 30 putts, but it was the crappy shots in the middle that ultimately cost him the championship points on the day. Col would often be 20 meters from the green for 2 shots and have a 1 putt but he was required to mark his scorecard down as a seven or eight.

The inconsistent Yarrambat greens proved a difficult challenge for most players although some guys found the best option to simply avoid putting all together. John Mea chipped in for 0 putt and Shane Cummings holed his third shot in the Par 5 eleventh for an eagle.

Shanno had the golfing gods in his corner and as well as making his eagle shot he also found a few other lucky breaks around the golf course. Without going into detail about all tales of fortune, by far the luckiest break he caught was when he hit a wild slice into the trees on his approach to the 14th hole. There was a crack of plastic on timber as a flock of cockatoos took flight, Shane's ball bounced from one limb to the next to another. Miraculously the third bounce spat the ball out sideways where it ran up the steep bank at the side of the green bounced off the wheel of Steve O'Sullivan's golf buggy and came to rest on the putting surface. If that wasn't enough, he was actually blindsided from the shot so he never actually saw the outcome of his shot and therefore he spent 5 minutes walking around the scrub looking for his ball before his playing partners actually discovered that there was an extra ball lying on the green and then realized it was his.

Compare that to poor Stu Coops who hit his drive straight over the Dog leg on the Par 5 seventh hole. A thorough search in the area where the ball should have come to rest proved fruitless and he was forced to declare the ball lost when it should have been pretty much in the middle of the fairway. After the penalty for the lost ball he battled to the end of the hole with a final score of nine. Only two holes later Trevor Adair turned up at the halfway house with an identical ball to the one Stu had lost and it even had Stu's unique identifying markings, Trevor claimed to have found the ball on the side of the fairway on the 7th hole but only after Stu had finished playing the hole, however given his track record for steal golf balls and knowing that it was a blind corner, it is fair to assume that he may have been on one of his golf ball collection missions. What's more, even after having admitted to being in possession of the golf ball, Trevor still elected not to give it back to the rightful owner and Stu was left to play the remaining 9 holes with an old second rate golf ball because it was the last one he had left in his golf bag.

Geoff Cooper was also left digging into the deepest corners of his golf bag trying to find enough balls to get him around the course. It was a tough day for the not quite yet an octogenarian, who started the day with a ten and then scored a disastrous 11 on the par 3, sixteenth hole. Geoff donated three balls in a row to the water gods on the 16th and he also three putted the green to seal his fate as the August Beer Wench title holder.

Congratulations to Newell (Highway) who elevated himself out of Beer wench position, he actually even surprised himself with a very commendable score of 120 off the stick. When you consider that during his warm up at the driving range he actually managed to hit the shed behind him, a top 20 finish is an extraordinary improvement and a noteworthy effort.

“Not So Big Mick” had a very disappointing result for the day. Having played such a brilliant round in the dark at Rosebud, there was plenty of money on “Not so Big Mick” going Back to Back at Yarrambat. The chances of him winning twice in a row ended on the first hole when he duffed his tee shot which only just managed to scrape past the ladies markers. Micks drive was the shortest of all 27 players from the club and the raucous cheers could be heard from miles away when the so called single figure handicapper also topped his second shot.

“Not So Big Mick” will need to get used to being the small ball in the group going forward. His driving ability has been overshadowed by Brett Meyer and now Black Fella (Glen Douglas) who have both proved to be big hitters who actually make Mick look like he is teeing off with a 6 iron. Black Douglas smashed the longest drive competition, according to the GPS recorder his ball came to rest 278 meters from the tee box. That is a massive drive, especially when you consider he was hitting uphill. With Brett & Glen looking to play regularly in 2015 it might be a long time before “Not So Big Mick” can reclaim his former title.

Mick tried to argue that Black Douglas’s ball may have been aided by the help of the local birdie life; he reckons the ball landed on a magpies back and it was carried that far rather than Glen hitting it. The birds were out in force on Sunday so it is possible.

Rick Turcinovic had his hat knocked off his head when he got too close a magpies nest, an over protective mother magpie started swooping him. As his playing partners so aptly put it, that was as close as Rick his come to a Birdie in a long time, the only thing was that he didn’t hit the birdie, it was more the Birdie hit him.

Yarrambat is very pretty landscape and the golfing experience is enhanced by the fact that it is heavily populated with wildlife, including ducks, parrots, rabbits and kangaroos which roam the fairways like they own the place. Peter Hutson was intrigued when he came across a huge male grey kangaroo who was oblivious to everything else around him because he so busy pleasuring himself.

Peter thought it was a great old joke and he had the video camera rolling and he had his I-phone camera going at a mile a minute, snapping away photos as he watched the Roo enjoying his not so private moment. Or perhaps it was actually not a private moment but more a directive targeted specifically at Pete. Our sources reveal that the kangaroo’s behavior was actually a jibe at Pete and what it was actually saying was “Hey you, buddy, yeah you with the remote control baby jeep golf buggy, do you know what you are, you are one of these. Yep that’s right jeep boy, you are a wanker.”

The kangaroo probably has a fair and valid point too, especially when you see Pete’s buggy whizzing around the fairways on its own, zig aging, this way and that for no apparent reason other than it is a game for Peter. At one point we actually saw it doing circle work at the front of the green while Pete was giving a perfect stranger a demonstration sales spiel about how his beloved baby Jeep works.

We all know the issues that can arise with other golfers playing your golf ball by mistake. You might remember that back in March we had to introduce the sale of “Don’t Steal Me Trevor” golf balls after Trevor was caught taking other players Bridgestone golf balls.

Once the limited supply of “Don’t Steal Me Hutson took it upon himself and decided to logo emblazoned on them. That was all hard way that all of the balls were identical ball as he was.

Trevor” golf balls was depleted, Peter order 1188 golf balls with his company good in theory until he discovered the and other guys were using the same prize

Last month Pete's ball mysteriously disappeared when it landed on the wrong fairway within close proximity to Trevor the bushranger. Unfortunately for Pete there was no way to prove his ball had been compulsorily acquired because Peter & Trevor both claimed that they were playing a Srixon AD 333 with a Woodtech/Sunday Leave Pass Logo, No# 2. As an ex-policeman Trevor was quick to recite the adverse possession law (Rule No#251 Section C) and therefore argued that Possession is 9/10ths of the law.

This month Peter decided to use a unique marker to ensure his ball was easy to identify and as to be expected he selected a symbol which is close to his heart. He has made a stern warning to all Sunday Leave Pass members to take note, he will not let anyone mess with his Jeep and if you steal, or even touch his ball he will run you over in the car park on the way home.

The biggest battle in the car park was who was going to win the August title. Congratulations to Greg Parsons who managed to beat Steve Powne by a single stroke. Both boys had commendable scores smashing their handicaps. Greg shot Nett 66 and Steve Powne was unlucky not to win with Nett 67.

As the season draws on the race for the seasons championship is getting more interesting. The President and Stu Coops did very little this month both only receiving the compulsory point for turning up, therefore opening up the door for Peter Hutson to continue his charge towards the top. Slinky and Greg Parsons have also moved well up on the leader board but remembering that they are not attending the golf trip might be the difference between reigning in the leaders or not.

Congratulations or Commiserations to Shane Cumming who joined the elite crew with a brilliant eagle 3 on the par 5 eleventh hole. Unfortunately Shanno's brilliance went pretty much unrewarded as he only wins a small prize jackpot from the Eagles Nest (9 Balls) but more importantly he was unable to claim any skins as his 3 for four stableford points was matched with Rick Turcinovics 5 for 4 stableford points and therefore the skins for the hole was jackpotted. We also must apologize to Shane because despite his wonderful achievement there was no kudos, or accolades available from everyone in the car park after the round. Our only excuse for letting Shane's eagle go by almost unnoticed was because everyone else were more surprised and excited by the fact that Tony MacIsaac had also achieved an incredible milestone of his own.

After a career spanning 12 years including 76 rounds, and consisting of 357 attempts (excluding lost balls replayed off the tee) Tony MacIsaac finally hit a Par 3 green from his first shot. On a difficult hole that brought the down fall of many players, Tony was able to and steer his 7 wood over the large lake at the front of the lake bringing his ball to rest only 2 meters below the flagstick. The bookies had the odds of Tony MacIsaac's name being on the NTP marker for the hole at very long odds. In fact as a space saving solution the social club had actually decided that it was so unlikely for Tony to hit a green that they had not even bothered to put Tony MacIsaac's name on the NTP markers. Consequently Tony had to resort to putting his nephew Matt's name on the card instead. The funny thing about that was that more people were more inclined to believe that Matt had actually played the NTP shot than Tony even though he is currently in Thailand.

"One insurance company puts a PGA Tour pro's chances at 1 in 3 to win a NTP and an amateur's like Tony MacIsaac at 1 in 12,750."

PROBABILITY of winning NTP Prize.

- Professional Tour player making a NTP: 3 to 1
- Low-handicapper making a NTP: 5 to 1
- Average player making a NTP: 12 to 1
- Matt MacIsaac making a NTP from Thailand: 12,749 to 1
- Tony MacIsaac making a NTP: 12,750 to 1

Once again we do apologise to Shanno for letting his chip in for Eagle three go virtually unrecognised on the day however we should give credit to Shane for his achievement. An eagle is a remarkable effort and is worthy of a round of applause and a standing ovation, but sadly in the hype of activity during the drinks and prize presentation we missed the opportunity to give him the kudos he deserved. He has sent an official letter of complaint to the club committee and has requested acknowledgment of his accomplishment. So! On behalf of all your peers from the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club, "Well done Shane and here is your standing ovation and round of applause."

This year we also have been lucky enough to have Peter Hutsons' company jump on to the Sunday Leave Pass band wagon. We thank "Wood Tech" from the bottom of our hearts as they have generously sponsored the club for the cost of our golf balls. This of course is on the condition that we promise to spread their branding across the state, which shouldn't be hard as we regularly lose golf balls around all 4 corners of the Melbourne urban district.

Our new golf balls carry both the SLP and the Wood Tech logo and we have 96 dozen of them to lose. They are damn good balls. Stu Coops actually played 18 holes with the one ball so if that is the case we might find we have enough balls to keep us going for the next 5-10 years.

Special Thanks to Dale Robinson who is the longest serving sponsor for the Sunday Leave Pass Social Club. Dale runs a printing business and is offering a high quality printing service. He will gladly do a good deal for any Sunday Leave Pass members wanting to order business cards, fliers or any other printed material. To find out more information about what he can do for you he can be contacted on 0438147788.

Remember that any printing job ordered through DNR print via the social club, Dale will donate 5% of the proceeds directly back to social club which offers us the opportunity to provide better prizes for everyone and it is good to keep your business opportunities within the network if it is possible. Wood Tech, my previous company Hudson Bond and even the Super-coach (believe it or not) have actually used Dale's business and everyone that had done so speaks very highly of the service and work that he produces.

Evergreen Winery Tours

Sponsored by Yarra Ranges Wine Regions

For those who were not aware of the "hole in one prize", any player who scores a hole in one or an Albatross during a Sunday Leave Pass event will win a complimentary Chauffeur Driven Winery Tour for 2x people through the Yarra Valley, courtesy of Evergreen Winery Tours. So start aiming at the hole we want to give it away this year there was a few close calls over the years but we are still yet to achieve the perfect shot despite more than 12000 attempts since 2004.
